DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed 5/27/08, with respect to Hemsath have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 56, 60, 61, 64, 74, 75, 88, 89, 92, 102 and 103 with regards to Hemsath (4,693,015) has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 55-60 & 83-88 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Promonet et al (EP 0 607 720). Promonet et al discloses the teaching of drying of web materials which are in the form of sheets (1) wherein heat is generated at least in part inside the roller by combusting fuel with air or oxygen (SEE Figure 1 and claim 1), evidence of the roller operating in a manner of a catalytic burner is shown in claim 5 wherein the cylindrical surface (6) contains a means (19) for the ignition of combustible gases wherein the combustible gases flow into a distribution chamber (7) through a fibrous, porous and refractory material which aids in the combustion and thus acts as a catalyst, to produce a flame clinging to the surface, this surface lies in the space surrounding surface (5).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 60-82 and 89-114 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5/27/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Promonet fails to disclose catalytically combusting a fuel with air or oxygen at least in some regions inside the roller (as per amended claim 55) and with regard to the now amended claim 83, that Promonet fails to disclose a catalyst arranged on an inside of the roller to combust a fuel with air or oxygen, Furthermore applicant argues that claim 5 of Promonet provides evidence that promonet operates as a catalytic burner. The examiner has provided further argument in an attempt to provide further evidence of the Promonet invention acting as a catalytic burner with the teaching that the combustible gases flow into a distribution chamber (7) through a fibrous, porous and refractory material such that when the fuel and air impinge upon the surface, combustion occurs which is broadly interpreted as functioning as a catalytic burner. Applicant's arguments that Promonet fails to disclose or claim a catalyst or catalytic burner is not persuasive because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the reference of Promonet.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
